This one day event will explore the current trends in plastics recycling with a detailed examination of the opportunities available to boost plastics recycling in the UK. A carefully selected panel of speakers from the plastics waste and recycling sector academy and support organisations will provide their insights and share expertise in their specialist areas.

Subjects covered will include;

- Current Trends in Plastics Recycling in the UK
- Latest Developments in Sorting Technology
- Dealing with Mixed Plastics Waste
- Use of Mixed Plastics in Feedstock Recycling

This event is aimed at all stakeholders public private, with an interest in the plastics recycling sector and its products, providing delegates with an appreciation for the current and future opportunities for plastics recycling and the use of recyclate in products.
