BPF Health and Safety Seminar

The BPF has designed its 2017 Health and Safety Seminar to provide attendees with a comprehensive look at the key issues facing our industry. This seminar will explore what the future of health and safety looks like and what the impact of Brexit will be. The event will also include detailed presentations on manual handling, occupational health and maintenance access.

Who should attend: This seminar is aimed at senior and middle managers from companies in the plastics industry who are responsible for health and safety within their organisation.

Speakers

Alan Brown

AGI Amaray

Alan is an engineer by trade, and has been married for 38 years with four grown-up children. He has worked in the plastics industry for almost 30 years in total and has been a member of the IHSC for approximately 4 years. He has been chairman of the BPF Health and Safety Committee since September 2015.

Stewart Cruikshank

Pristine Condition

Stewart was previously a competitive weightlifter, representing Great Britain at World and European Championship level. He represented England at the 1994, 1998 and 2002 Commonwealth Games, achieving two Silver and three Bronze medals, and in doing so, set the British record at his weight — a record which still stands today. As Business Development Director, Stewart now works closely with clients to develop bespoke behavioural change programmes that have a core focus around manual handling training solutions, with a proven track record in reducing manual handling personal injury claims.

Rob Elvin

Squire Patton Boggs

Rob Elvin is the Managing Partner of Squire Patton Boggs Manchester office. His particular expertise covers health, safety and environmental law, judicial review, corporate defence (including bribery and corruption, investigations and corporate manslaughter), food hygiene and safety, product safety, liability and recall and he is a solicitor advocate. Rob also lectures on issues such as corporate manslaughter, product safety and defending all manner of regulatory prosecutions.

Jon Williams

Performance Consultants International

Jon Williams is a Senior Consultant and Lead Facilitator for Performance Consultants in the UK. He has 18 years' experience in the field of personal and organisational development, working for a blue chip financial services company. Jon has worked for 25 years in the Financial Services Industry with Lloyds TSB Group, including 18 years as a trainer, coach and leadership development consultant covering all aspects of the training cycle. Jon is an Associate Certified Coach with the International Coaching Federation, holds a Post-Graduate Certificate in Performance Coaching from Sheffield-Hallam University and became a Chartered Member of the Institute of Personnel Development in 2007.
