Recycling the 'Unrecyclable'

This one-day seminar will showcase the latest in recycling innovation with presentations exploring how to push the boundaries of plastics recycling and the uses of recycled plastics.

The event will also feature best practice in plastics recycling from the world of local government and overseas, as well as a panel debate on what impact the new Chinese recycling rules will have on our industry. Join the BPF for this low cost one-day event to network, to listen to our expert speakers and to find out what is happening on the cutting edge of plastics recycling.

Who should attend: This seminar is aimed at senior and middle managers from organisations involved in plastics recycling in the UK.
